NEW BRIDGE AT MILL BROOK—Fill was completed last week by the H. E. Sargent crew at the bridge which was completed during the winter by William Moore, sub-contractor for the bridge construction. A small bridge crew has worked since last fall and good progress has been made on the new overpass which spans the present Route 2 and the Grand Trunk tracks.

The Sargent crew is now working on the northerly side of the railroad, between the new overpass structure and Routes 2 and 26, opposite the Hanover Dowel Co. mill.

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The fire department is going to buy 400 feet of 2 1/2 inch fire hose. The town raised $500 at the March meeting which is enough to purchase 400 feet of hose. This is about 100 feet more than the town would get at the regular price of $1.75 per foot charged by most companies.

The highway department has been spraying bushes and clearing the grade crossings of the railroad. In the interest of public safety, the Public Utilities Commission requires that towns keep railroad grade crossings free of obstructions. The Commission reimburses the town for half the expense of the work done.

The town will buy the asphalt for surfacing from the D. & S. Corporation. This is the same company that the town has bought from for the last five years.

The soil cement construction of Mechanic Street will start Monday, June 25, and the curbing coat of asphalt should be on by Saturday, June 30. The people living on Mechanic Street have had to live with holes in the road and dust for the last two months, but these discomforts should be corrected in another week or 10 days.

When Mechanic Street is completed we will go on and do our tarring. Anyone who wants their driveway tarred still has time to apply, but they should do it as soon as they can.

Primary Results Close --State Approves ETV

Several of the contests in Monday's primary election, as well as the educational television bond issue referendum, were not very decisive victories. ETV was favored statewide by a small margin, while the Oxford County vote was about 2237 Yes, 1423 No.

Maynard Dolloff of Gray apparently won the Democratic nomination over Richard Durbord of Waterville in the gubernatorial contest. Late figures on the County's closest race—Republican County Commissioner, give incumbent John McKeen 1393 and Norman Greenlaw 1387.

For the first time in many years the Citizen is not able to give nearly complete and correct returns on all contests, and it is hoped that such figures will be available next week.

Davidson Tells of New Building at Academy

Remarks by Sidney W. Davidson, Esquire, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Gould Academy, at the Alumni Luncheon, June 9.

Bingham Hall—
William Bingham Gymnasium
The construction work on the campus started in April of this year and will, we hope, be completed when school opens in September, 1963. The old William Bingham Gymnasium which has served for forty years is being entirely reconstructed to provide the finest possible indoor facilities for girls. It will include a new girls' regulation basketball court, a corrective exercise room, modern locker facilities, and on the second floor alumni and faculty rooms. In the basement, a new boiler room is being erected to replace the obsolete boiler plant.

Attached to the William Bingham Gymnasium we are constructing a 500 seat auditorium with professional stage. This wing will be known as the Bingham Auditorium as a Memorial to William Bingham who during his life time did much for Gould. This Auditorium will be one of the finest in New England and will offer an opportunity to Gould to enrich the program for its students by attracting cultural groups which could not previously have appeared here due to lack of facilities.

Our new structure has been designed by Randolph Evans, partner in the architectural firm of Chapman, Evans & Delehanthy of New York City. All the buildings constructed on our campus during the last twenty-five years bear the mark of his creative ability and his sound taste.

The buildings are Barr & Barr, engineers of New York City of which Robert Barr is President. He succeeded his father, the late Joseph Barr, as President of Barr & Barr and as trustee of Gould.

When the construction is completed, our campus will again be landscaped by the firm of Clark and Rapuano of New York City, one of the leaders among landscape architects of our country.

Unfortunately, as we advance some must suffer. The trustees of Gould express their regret to the girls at Gould this year and next because of the unavoidable disruption to their indoor athletic facilities. Mr. Vachon and the faculty will continue to do everything in

COUNTY TREE FARMERS TO BE HONORED AT COUNTY FORESTRY DAY

Thirteen Oxford County woodland owners have qualified as Tree Farmers and they will be so honored on Thursday evening, June 28. Supper meeting planned at the Universalist Church, Pine Street, South Paris, 6:30 p. m. "Woodland Management" in Action.

The four woodlots to be visited on the tour Thursday afternoon, June 28, are: Richard G. Parsons and W. W. Harriman, North Norway; Robert Sessions, Pike's Hill, Norway; and Clarence Morton, South Paris, where you will see results of the wide variety of improvement practices in woodland management as follows: selective cutting; pruning; white pine weevil control with corrective pruning; results of aerial spraying by helicopter to kill off undesirable or weed trees; tree planting demonstration; use of portable mist blower for insect control as well as killing off undesirable trees with chemicals; see a wood chipper in action; the use of a winch on a chain saw. You will see results of practices that pay in terms of quality wood.

The program includes information on fire control, blaster suit control, and a review of the tremendous increase in activities in forest management practices over the past ten years.

How important is forestry to Oxford County? Every fourth person in this county is concerned with forestry for his income. Roughly 80% of our land area is in forest land, a renewable natural resource. The average woodland owner is taking more interest and action concerning the improvement of his woodlot and carrying out management practices that pay real dividends.

All persons interested in Forestry, our basic natural resource, are invited and encouraged to take part in this tour and supper meeting, Thursday, June 28.

SENIOR CITIZENS MEET

The Senior Citizens met at the Bethel Inn Beach Club on Tuesday of this week. There was a very good attendance although the early morning shower may have kept some at home who would have liked to be there.

As usual the morning was spent socially and in playing favorite games.

At noon there was a basket lunch with coffee and punch served by the committee and Senior assistants.

At 1 p. m. group singing of favorite songs and hymns, led by Rev. John Palmer, accompanied by Phyllis Dock on the accordion, was enjoyed by all.

Pastor Palmer gave a very interesting discourse on the discourse "My Second Birth-day."

Imogene Kimball recited an original poem entitled "A Legend of the Androscoggin." Joseph Perry of West Bethel is general chairman for the next meeting, to be held at Addison Saunders' camp on July 17; Edna Smith is program committee and Alta Meserve is in charge of transportation.

Their power to minimize the inconveniences. When the construction is completed you will, I am sure, recognize that all your sufferings will not have been in vain.

The cost of this construction is large. Funds have been donated by the Honorable Frances P. Bolton, sister of the late William Bingham, widow of Mr. Bingham's younger brother, and by the trustees of Mr. Bingham's charitable trusts.

Knowing good builders, I make no promise as to the exact date of completion. However, I hope that a year from now when we shall return for the 1963 commencement, we shall be able to make a tour through this new building.

TO BREAK GROUND FOR ADDITION TO RUMFORD HOSPITAL MONDAY A. M.

The first step in actual construction of Rumford Community Hospital's new three-story addition will be taken next Monday at 11 a. m. when ground-breaking ceremonies will be held on the site adjoining the present hospital building, Charles L. Ferguson, president of the board of directors, announced last night.

Following the brief ceremonies, Omer Beisaw will begin preparations for blasting out ledge now on the property to make way for the foundation of the new building.

"I know the people of this area have been looking forward with great anticipation to this event," Ferguson commented. "Monday is the day the dirt begins to fly and all of us will begin to see in front of us the beginnings of the creation of the greater hospital our families need so badly."

The exact amount of Federal participation in the building program will not be determined until contractors submit their bids on the job. The project will be offered for bidding as soon as Hill-Burton approval is obtained, the hospital president said, adding that a period of not less than 30 days must be allowed for bidding.

"All preliminary engineering work has been completed, so by going ahead now with the ledge removal, the construction crew will be able to get right to work on the foundation as soon as the contract is signed," Ferguson said.

President Ferguson also reported last night that building fund pledge payments are coming in "very well," although a few subscribers have been late in making payments.

"With ledge removal beginning Monday and awarding of further contracts fast approaching, prompt payment of pledges to the hospital building fund becomes more important than ever," he pointed out.

The hospital president said the building fund now stands at $723,118, and additional subscriptions are still being sought to narrow the gap between the anticipated cost of the project and the funds on hand.

"When we see the contractors' bids and get a definite figure on the Federal grant, we will be able to determine exactly how much we are short," he said. "We hope the continuing generosity of the people of this area will enable us to make up this difference."

The new wing, which will be connected floor-by-floor with the present hospital, will have accommodations for 71 adult and child patients and will also house the new surgical, emergency and x-ray departments. The maternity department, with beds for 15 patients and 18 bassinets, will be located in a remodeled area of the present building, giving the hospital a total of 86 beds. Present rated capacity is 64, but demands for

ORGANIZATION SEEKING LEGISLATION TO BAN COMPULSORY UNIONISM

Obtaining grass-roots support for the adoption of a new Maine law which would ban compulsory unionism is the announced objective of a new statewide organization whose formation was disclosed last week by Fred I. Merrill, General Contractor, South Portland.

Elected President of Maine Citizens for Right to Work, Inc., Merrill said, "Many Maine workers today are compelled to pay union dues in order to work at their chosen occupations. While we will defend the right of workers voluntarily to join labor unions, we will oppose the objectionable practice of forcing Maine workers into unions against their will."

"Chapters of the State organization have been established in several of the State's sixteen counties, and organizational work is continuing in order to form separate chapters in each County."

"We are confident that Maine people from all walks of life, including union members and non-union workers, will support this movement. The broad appeal of this fundamental issue is illustrated by the fact that the people of nine States have voted favorably on right to work proposals in State-wide elections. Nineteen States have enacted right to work laws to date, and similar campaigns are now being promoted by the people of Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Florida, Oklahoma, Wyoming and Washington."

The Board of Directors of Maine Citizens for Right to Work, Inc., includes Merrill, of South Portland; William H. Ramsay, former automotive service proprietor, of Benton; Ray J. Smart, real estate appraiser, of Waterville; Paul E. Merrill, trucking company official, of Portland; Walter F. Tweedie, insurance man, of Mars Hill; Vaughn L. Cole, transportation company official, of Presque Isle; Chester G. Bridge, highway contractor, of Augusta; the Rev. Vernelle W. JUNIOR BASEBALL DAY

Plans are progressing rapidly for a gala day July 14 for the purpose of raising money for our Little League ball teams.

It may be of interest to know that we have nine teams, counting the farm teams, which represents 130 odd Bethel boys from ages 8 to 15.

It is planned to have a parade with prizes for best decorated bicycles and doll carriages. The Bethel fire department has challenged the Legion Post to a short ball game. Following the ball game, the Legion Post is serving a baked bean supper on the Common. A "record hop" for teenagers will be held in the evening. During the afternoon home made candy will be on sale at the Common. Popcorn and soda pop will be sold at the ball game.

Friday evening, July 13, there will be an adult dance, sponsored by the Jaycees, held at the Newry Corner Grange Hall, all proceeds going to the baseball fund.

It is hoped that enough money can be raised in one day to support all of these teams with adequate equipment and insurance. Let's see everybody out for the activities and help the Little Leaguers of Bethel.

"TAKE IT EASY BEHIND WHEEL" SAY STATE POLICE

"Want to save some money?"

If your answer to this question is "Yes," here is a suggestion from the Maine State Police:

"Take it easy behind the wheel. Don't drive 'in a hurry.' All of us realize that excessive speed, speed too fast for conditions, improper passing, following too closely, and failure to yield the right of way are dangerous. We know that such violations have been responsible for many highway deaths. However, how many of us appreciate the fact that this type of driving also costs money—good hard cash?"

The police explained it this way:

"First of all, it takes more gasoline to drive erratically, and at excessive speeds—and gasoline costs money. Secondly, swerving around corners or applying brakes frequently puts more of a strain on your tires at higher speeds. Needless to mention, tires, too cost money."

"Traveling at reasonable speeds and avoiding the 'fatal five' violations mentioned above may save your life. Beyond any question, it will save you money."

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Penley and daughter Elaine and his mother, Mrs. Lisbeth Penley, spent the week end at their camp in Upton.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Homans, Ipswich, Mass., were hosts at a seafood cook-out at Vernon Inman's camp, Hicks Pond, Saturday night. Present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Pearson, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Inman, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Inman, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Proctor, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Inman and the host and hostess.

BARNETT - EMERSON

A lovely wedding took place at the Andover Congregational Church June 9 when Miss Sandra Anita-Laurie Emerson of Ann Arbor, Mich., and Andover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Emerson, Sr. of Andover, became the bride of Billy J. Barnett, Ann Arbor, Mich., son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Barnett of that city.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Nathaniel Pearson before a choir loft banked with evergreen and candles. White lilacs, in gold vases, decorated the altar posts.

Mrs. Herbert Knox, Andover, played traditional wedding music prior to the procession. Larson Hiltz, East Andover, sang "Because."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was dressed in a floor length white pure silk gown with seeded lace sweetheart neckline, long pointed buttoned sleeves and a train falling from a large back bow. Her veil was a shoulder length seeded pearl and sequin Juliette cap. She carried her grandmother's small white gold-edged Bible which had streamers of white ribbons and lilies of the valley.

She was preceded to the altar by her junior bridesmaids, Harriet Campbell, Rumford, and Crystal Campbell, Andover, cousins of the bride. The two young ladies were gowned in identical gowns of lavender and green respectively, made of chantilly lace over nylon.

The bridesmaids, Miss Marilee Jodrey, and Miss Terrance Remington, both of Andover, were gowned in pink and blue respectively and made identical to the junior bridesmaids dresses. Each of the four girls wore a white net veil with a cap of the same colored material as her dress. Each carried a colonial bouquet.

The maid of honor, Miss Tamara Emerson, sister of the bride, wore white net over nylon with a matching headpiece and carried a colonial bouquet.

The flower girl was Dora Campbell, Rumford, who wore a light blue nylon dress and carried a basket of flowers. Ring bearer, Shawn Remington, Andover, carried a white lace heart shaped pillow with lilies of the valley on satin streamers.

A reception followed at the Town Hall. The guest book was circulated by Mrs. Norman Beaudet, Rumford. The gift display was in charge of Mrs. Walter Jodrey, Miss Olive Akers, both of Andover, and Mrs. Joseph Couture, Jr., Oakland. Mrs. Alcide Gallant and Mrs. Francis Remington, Sr., Andover, presided at the punch bowls.

The cake, made by Mrs. Arthur Myshrahl, Andover, was tiered and in the shape of a four leaf clover. It was topped with a bride and groom and the attendants around the edges. Mrs. Amos Campbell, Andover, served the cake.

The bride's mother wore a black and white chiffon with white accessories. Each had a bouquet of pink carnations.

For traveling the bride wore a loden green linen suit with a rose corsage. After touring Maine the couple are at home at Orchard Grove Trailer Park, Ann Arbor, Mich.

The bride graduated from Andover High in 1958 and from Bliss Business College in 1960. She has been employed at the library at the University of Michigan. She also attended the Page Modeling School at Dearborn, Mich.

The groom attended schools in Michigan. He served two years in the army, one of which was in Korea. He is employed as a machinist and a filling station attendant.

Mr. and Mrs. John Richardson have returned from a week's fishing trip to Churchill Lake with relatives and friends. Their four children stayed with their two grandmothers.
